Responsible Party

Nebulae will be the party to be collecting and processing a User's personal information and as such is designated as the "responsible party" for the purposes of this Policy.

Nebulae may instruct third party operators from time to time to undertake certain processing activities relating to the User's personal information.

What personal information is collected

Nebulae may collect the following personal information from the User: Initials, first name, surname; Date of birth; Place of study; Email address; Student number; Age and language preference; Gender; and Cellphone number.

The supply of personal information by the User to Nebulae is voluntary and not mandatory. However, if the User refuses to supply any personal information, certain consequences may naturally flow from such. Consequences such as refusal of using the services or application, or performing any contract with the User, or preventing Nebulae from complying with one or more of its obligations in law.

There is no applicable law which directly requires or authorises Nebulae to collect a User's personal information without the user's consent.

Purpose/s for collection and processing of personal information

Nebulae shall only collect a User's personal information for a specific, explicitly defined and lawful purpose relating to a function or activity of Nebulae's operations.

Such purposes may include the following:

- to enter into a contract with a User;
- to perform any obligations under a contract with a User;
- to comply with legal obligations;
- to protect the legitimate interest of a User (unless the User has specifically objected in writing to all or some of the processing activities on reasonable grounds);
- to pursue its own legitimate interests or the legitimate interests of a third party who it is sharing the information with (unless the User has specifically objected in writing to all or some of the processing activities on reasonable grounds);
- to process personal information for direct marketing purposes (unless the User has opted out of receiving any direct marketing material and has specifically objected in writing to all or some of the processing activities on reasonable grounds);
- to present content to the User in the most effective way for them and their viewing device and browser;
- to customise and display content including, but not limited to products, articles, listings and advertisements to the User in a way that Nebulae feels may interest the User in the most beneficial way;
- to enable the User to voluntarily participate in interactive features on the applications;
- to notify the User about changes to the application.

If Nebulae intends to process a User's personal information for any other purpose not listed in the aforementioned clause or which is otherwise not automatically permitted by law, it shall ensure that it obtains the User's written consent to do so.

Nebulae will not sell a User's personal information to any third party without the prior written consent of the User.

Collection directly from user

Nebulae shall, as far as possible, always collect personal information about a User directly from the User, except in the following circumstances:

- Where personal information is collected from a public record, or from another source if the information has already been made public by the User;
- Where the User has given their written consent to Nebulae to collect their information from another source;
- Where the collection of a User's personal information from another source will not prejudice, jeopardize and/or compromise any of the User's legitimate interests;
- Where the collection of personal information from another source is necessary to maintain Nebulae's legitimate interests or those of any third party it intends sharing the information with;
- Where the collection of personal information directly from the User would prejudice, jeopardize and/or compromise the purpose for the collection;
- Where the collection of personal information directly from the User is not reasonably practical in the circumstances.
- If Nebulae collects personal information from a source other than the User, it shall record in writing the details of that source, including the full names and contact details of that source where applicable.

The User hereby consents to Nebulae requesting and obtaining credit information pertaining to the User from any reputable credit reporting agency or institution for the purpose of concluding any transaction for the sale of goods or services to the User on this website.

Collection from User directly

Personal information may be collected from or supplied by the User in any of the following ways:

- During the process of registering as a member on the application;
- Provided by the User as part of their profile pages on the application;

- When subscribing to a service, entering into a competition or promotion, or participating in a survey offered on the application;
- When posting a comment, review, reply or recommendation on this website or the application;
- When requesting further services or information from Nebulae;
- When contacting Nebulae to report a problem with the application or for any other reason;
- When completing any forms on the application.

The User may visit the website without providing any personal information. However, the website's servers may still collect technical information regarding the use of the website, which is aggregated for analytical purposes, technical maintenance and for improving the content offered on the website. Such information may include details of the User's visit, information about the User's computer, including IP (Internet Protocol) address, operating system and browser type, the User's location, and usage information. An individual User will not be identified from or by this information and Nebulae is entitled to copy, distribute or otherwise use such information without limitation.

Cookies

"Cookies" are small text files transferred by a webserver to a User's hard drive and thereafter stored on their computer. The types of information a Cookie collects includes a User's username, the date and time of their visits to the website, their browsing history and preferences.

Nebulae may use Cookies on this website to:

- distinguish one User from another on the website;
- remember the User's last session when they return to the website;
- estimate the website's audience size and usage patterns;
- store information about the User's preferences, which allows Nebulae to customize the website and content according to the Users individual preferences; and
- speed up searches on the website.

The provisions of this clause are only applicable to Cookies used by Nebulae. In some instances, third-party service providers may use Cookies on the website. Nebulae cannot and does not control or access Cookies used by third party service providers and takes no responsibility thereof.

The User has the right and ability to either accept or decline the use of Cookies on their computer's web browser, whether they are logged in as a member, or simply casually visiting the website. However, declining the use of Cookies may limit a User's access to certain features on the website.

General conditions for processing personal information

Nebulae shall comply with all laws, contracts or regulations when it processes a User's personal information.

Nebulae shall not act unreasonably when processing a User's personal information. This means that it will collect and process a User's personal information in a way that the User can reasonably expect and in a way that is fair.

Nebulae shall respect the User's right to privacy at all times. If there is another way in which it can achieve the same goal without posing any risk of harm to the privacy rights of the User, then it will choose that option.

Similarly, if Nebulae needs to process personal information but there are less privacy-invasive methods of collecting, using and sharing that information, then it will use those methods.

Nebulae shall ensure that the personal information that is collected and processed is and remains relevant to the identified purpose/s for such processing, and that such information is and remains adequate, but not excessive, for achieving the identified purpose/s.

If there are any alternative ways to achieve the identified purpose/s without processing personal information, Nebulae shall not process that personal information.

Nebulae shall ensure that the processing activities it chooses to apply are proportionate to achieving the identified purpose/s and that no less privacy invasive measures are available to achieve the same purpose/s.

Nebulae shall ensure that, regardless of the stated purpose/s for processing personal information, the rights and interests of Users will not be unnecessarily prejudiced or infringed, unless it cannot be avoided, and then in such cases, it shall ensure that its own rights and/or interests justify such prejudice or infringement taking place.

Once Nebulae has achieved the purpose for the collection of the User's personal information, it will destroy or delete such information, unless the User has directed otherwise in writing, or Nebulae is required by law to retain the information for a longer period of time. If Nebulae no longer needs to process personal information to achieve the purpose originally specified, it will stop using that information.

Disclosure and sharing of personal information

Nebulae may, in the course of providing any content or services on this website, or for the purposes of concluding or performing any sale or other transaction with a User, share certain personal information with third party operators who perform certain processing activities on behalf of Nebulae.

The information shared and the categories of third party operators with whom it is shared will always be notified to you prior to being shared.

Nebulae may also share aggregated information about Users of this website and their usage patterns. Moreover Nebulae may also use such aggregated information to help advertisers target specific audiences. Such aggregated information will be de-identified and the User's personal information will not be disclosed.

Nebulae shall not share a User's personal information with any third parties unless it has the User's express consent to do so.

User's rights in relation to the processing of their personal information

Users shall have the following rights in relation to the processing of their personal information:

- to access and correct any personal information held by Nebulae about them;
- to object to the processing of their information; and
- to lodge a complaint with the Information Regulator.

Users may make a request in terms of the aforementioned by following the process for making such a request as set out in the PROATIA.

Further processing

Nebulae shall not process a User's personal information for any purpose not previously specified except in the following circumstances:

- where the User has consented to such further processing;
- where the further processing is necessary for the exercise of any contractual rights or the fulfillment of any obligations between Nebulae and the User;
- where the further processing activities are linked to or compatible with the original purpose;
- where the further processing is necessary for the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution and punishment of an offence;
- where the further processing is necessary to enforce any law;
- where the further processing is necessary for the conduct of legal proceedings in any court or tribunal that have commenced or are reasonably contemplated;
- where the further processing is necessary to prevent or mitigate a serious and imminent threat to the life or health of the User or another individual;
- where the further processing is necessary for historical, statistical or research purposes.

Nebulae shall ensure that if it intends processing personal information for other purposes not previously specified, it shall notify the User of such further purposes and the possible consequences of the intended further processing for the User.

Accuracy, correctness and completeness of personal information

Nebulae shall take reasonably practicable steps to ensure that the personal information kept by it about Users is complete, accurate, not misleading and is updated when necessary. However, if a User is aware of any personal information in Nebulae's custody that is incorrect, inaccurate or which needs to be updated, the User must make a written request on the typeforms offered on Nebulae's website informing us to update or correct the relevant information.

If a User has contested the accuracy of any personal information being used by Nebulae, it shall immediately stop using that information until its accuracy has been verified.

Nebulae reserves its right to only adhere to a request from a User if the correction or updating of that information will result in the personal information being correct and accurate.

Where personal information that has been shared by Nebulae with a third party is subsequently updated or corrected, Nebulae shall ensure that all third parties, with whom that information was shared, receives the updated and/or corrected version of the information as soon as it has been updated and/or corrected.

Security safeguards

Nebulae is committed to protecting the personal information in its custody against any loss of, damage to or unauthorised destruction of that information, and to prevent any unauthorised parties from accessing that information.

Nebulae takes steps to continually identify and document any risks to the personal information it has in its possession or under its control and that appropriate security safeguards are in place against those risks.

Nebulae shall ensure that in any contracts entered into with third party operators who process personal information on Nebulae' behalf, include the following obligations:

- the operator shall not process any personal information without Nebulae' knowledge and authority;
- the operator shall treat all personal information given to it as confidential and shall not disclose it to any unauthorised third parties;
- the operator shall establish and maintain adequate security measures which are the same or offer similar protection over the personal information as that employed by Nebulae;
- the operator shall notify Nebulae immediately where there are reasonable grounds to believe that any personal information has been leaked to or accessed by any unauthorised person;
- if the operator is situated in another country, it must comply with the data protection laws in that country and be able to provide verification that it is so compliant;
- if an operator is legally obliged to disclose any personal information processed by them on Nebulae' behalf to other parties, it must notify Nebulae beforehand to enable Nebulae and/or individual Users to protect their rights if necessary.

- Users must maintain the secrecy of any passwords used to gain access to this website and should change such passwords regularly.

Nebulae shall ensure that all personal information on its systems is properly backed-up and that back-up copies are stored separately from the live files.

Notification of breach of security

If personal information about a User is inadvertently leaked or Nebulae's security has been unlawfully breached by any unauthorised party, Nebulae shall immediately identify the relevant Users who may be affected by the security breach, and shall contact them at their last known email address or contact details or by the quickest means possible.

Nebulae shall provide sufficient information to the User to allow him or her to take the necessary protective measures against the potential consequences of the compromise, or shall advise Users of the steps to be taken by them and the possible consequences that may ensue from the breach for them.

Decisions based on personal information processed

If Nebulae is required to make a decision about a User using any personal information that has been obtained, it shall ensure that a record of such information and the decision made is kept for a reasonable period of time to give the User an opportunity to request access to that record.

Nebulae shall allow a User a reasonable opportunity to make representations before any decision is made solely on the basis of the personal information processed, if that decision will affect the legal position of the User, or will otherwise adversely affect them in some manner or form.

Nebulae shall always ensure that the underlying logic behind any decision made pursuant to the automated processing of personal information is sound and that this underlying logic can be communicated to the User to enable them to make representations.

If Nebulae has made a decision based on incorrect personal information, it shall immediately revisit that decision as soon as it receives Policy or becomes aware of the error or inaccuracy of that information.

Linked third party websites

This website may contain links or references to other websites, including those of advertisers (“third party websites”) which are not under Nebulae’s control.

The provisions of this Privacy Policy are not applicable to third party websites and Nebulae shall not be held responsible for the information processing practices and/or privacy policies of those third party websites, or the cookies that those websites may use.

Direct marketing

The User hereby consents to the processing of their personal information for the purpose of direct marketing by means of electronic communications including automatic calling machines, facsimile machines, SMS’s or electronic mail.

Where a User is a pre-existing customer of Nebulae, Nebulae shall be entitled, without the User’s consent, to sending electronic communications to the User for the purpose of marketing similar products or services offered by Nebulae.

The User may object, free of charge, and without unnecessary formality, to the use of their details either when the information was first collected from them or when each subsequent electronic communication is sent to them by Nebulae.

The User can opt out of receiving further marketing communications by un-checking certain boxes on the forms used on the website to collect their personal information or by contacting Nebulae on the following email: insert email address here.

Children’s personal information

Nebulae shall not process any personal information relating to a person under the age of 18 years unless it has obtained consent from that person’s parent or legal guardian. If this website is being accessed by the parent or guardian of a child under the age of 18 years, and personal information pertaining to that child is being provided by the parent or guardian, then they hereby expressly consent to Nebulae processing such information according to the further provisions of this Privacy Policy.

Cross border Transfers of personal information

Nebulae may transfer personal information to another country in the following circumstances:

- the transfer is necessary for the performance of a contract that Nebulae has with the User;
- the transfer is necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract with a third party which is for the benefit of or in the interest of the User;
- the transfer is otherwise for the benefit of the User; or
- the User has consented to the transfer of their information.

If Nebulae is required to transfer personal information from South Africa to a third party in a foreign country, it shall ensure that the third party is subject to a law, binding code of conduct or contract which effectively upholds principles for the reasonable processing of personal information which are substantially similar to the data protection offered in the Republic of South Africa.

Retention of information

Nebulae will keep a record of any personal information collected for no longer than is necessary to achieve the specific purpose for which it collected such information in the first place unless:

- It is required by law to keep a record of such information for a longer period of time; or
- It needs to keep a record of such information for another lawful purpose; or
- It has a contractual obligation to keep a record of such information; or
- The User has consented to their information being kept for a longer period.

Nebulae may, if it has de-identified personal information, kept such information for historical, statistical or research purposes. Nebulae shall ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place to prevent those records from being used for any other purposes, or against the information being re-identified.

Returning, destroying or deleting personal information

Where Nebulae is no longer authorised to retain a record of any personal information, it shall either:

- ensure that the information is permanently destroyed or deleted as soon as reasonably practicable; or
- return the information to the User or transfer it to a third party, if requested by the User in writing to do so.

Consent

The User hereby consents to the processing of their personal information in terms of the provisions of this Privacy Policy.

The User acknowledges and agrees that such consent has been given voluntarily after the User has read and understood the provisions of this Privacy Policy, in particular, regarding the following:

- the types of personal information to be processed;
- the specific processing activities to be undertaken;
- the specific purpose/s for such processing; and
- the possible consequences for the User that may arise from such processing.

Should a User wish to withdraw any consent previously given by the User, they must notify Nebulae' information officer in writing.

Lodging an objection

A User may, on reasonable grounds, object to the processing of their personal information at any time after that processing has started.

If a User wishes to object to the processing of their personal information, they must send written Policy of their objection to Nebulae' via our online gateways together with their reasons for doing so.

Jurisdiction

This Privacy Policy shall be governed and interpreted in accordance with the laws of the Republic of South Africa.
